Brainy Zoo News

- The latest news! We've got two new baby penguins – they're very cute!
- This week is Charlie the Dancing Chimpanzee week at the zoo. Come to the chimpanzee house at 2:00 pm and watch Charlie dance to his favourite music.
- Some of our visitors say bats are scary, but a visit to the bat house is a great experience. There are only small lights in the bat house, so the bats think it's evening. You can walk in and see the bats flying everywhere!
- Finally, we have a special offer in the Bat Café – no bats, but tea and cake for just £1.50!

Subject: Our visit to the zoo

X

Hi Olivia,

Let's decide about our visit to the zoo on Tuesday.

I want to see the dancing chimpanzee - that's at and the penguins after that. So I think we should leave home at around one o'clock.

I know you like bats, but I don't want to go into the because I think they are scary animals.

When you're there, I'll have in the Bat Café.

It's very cheap - only £1.50. Then we can go and see the baby penguins!

Please let me know what you think.

Maria

B. move

C. university

I'm reading New Town, New Life. It's about a family who house to a new town. The main characters are the 16-year-old daughter, Laura, and the 18-year-old son, Oliver. Their father starts a new business and gets rich, but then their mother and father get divorced. Laura meets a musician called Jacko and they in love. They put their songs on the Internet and they become famous. Oliver goes to to study science but he doesn't like it. I'm about halfway through the book now - I think I'll finish it very soon!
