Hi from Washington DC!
I'm on holiday here with my family. Yesterday, we went sightseeing on Segways - it was great! We saw all the monuments on the National Mall. And we've booked a tour of the White House for today :-)
We've already been in the USA for a week. Last week, we went hiking in the Blue Ridge Mountains. It was the first time I've been backpacking. But my sister is an expert and she knows how to put up a tent!
Tomorrow, we're checking out of the hotel and setting off for the airport. I will miss the USA a lot!

Hi all, it's Sally here. We're having a great time here in England. We've been in London since Sunday. We're staying at a nice B&B near the British Museum. Yesterday, I had an unusual sightseeing trip - in virtual reality! It was at London's tallest skyscraper, The Shard. I got on a special VR platform at the top of the building, and I put on a VR headset. Then I went on a terrifying ride down a virtual slide. It was only two minutes from 'setting off' to 'landing', but the views were amazing! I could see all the sights like London Bridge and the London Eye. ☺
