1

The New York City Marathon is the biggest marathon in the world, and more than 90,000 runners take part in it every November, but not all of them finish! You don't have to be an athlete to do the marathon. Some people do it because they want to break their personal record; others take part because they are trying to raise money for charity.

2

The Tour de France is a 21-stage bicycle race for professional cyclists. The route changes every summer, but cyclists always have to ride through the Pyrenees and the Alps and the race always finishes in Paris. The leader of the race wears a yellow jersey. Millions of cycling fans come to watch the Tour de France.

3

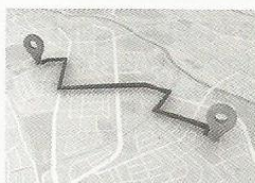

The Vans Triple Crown of Surfing is a surfing championship in Hawaii. Every November and December, the best surfers from around the world take part in it. It has three separate events. The person who scores the most points in the three events becomes the Triple Crown Champion and wins over $50,000.

4

The Argentine Open Championship is the most famous polo event in the world and takes place in Argentina in November and December. Polo is a fast and exciting game and players have to be very good horse riders. They also have to wear a helmet and special knee guards to prevent injury. There are separate women's and men's events.
